

Angela Gray

Chandler, AZ
814-897-6799
agray@larsontexts.com

Angela is a National Education Consultant for Big Ideas Learning. With 10+ years serving as a trainer and educator, she has proven to be a unique difference maker in K-12 schools across the country. Angela is a true “millennial” with a focus on identifying Education’s needs and implementing creative, yet viable solutions and strategies to eliminate them. As a former Middle School Math Teacher, she made lasting impressions on students as she used Relevance, Rigor, and Relationships to leverage their utmost potential in the classroom. Angela continued to use many of those strategies while working as an Instructional Coach/Regional Training Consultant to support both emerging and established teachers.

Angela holds a Bachelor of Arts in Elementary Education from Cardinal Stritch University (CSU) with a Mathematics Endorsement. CSU is also where she played her Division 3 College Basketball. Additionally, Angela holds a Master of Education degree in Educational Leadership from the University of Concordia, WI.

Angela is recently married, and now enjoys being a group fitness instructor as well as coaching and officiating youth and wheelchair basketball games.

Career Highlights

- Senior Consultant for HMH
- Google Certified Trainer
- WI and AZ Certified Educator and Administrator
- Self-Owned Free-Lance Company

Associations and Awards

Member

National Council of Teachers of Mathematics

Member

Arizona Alliance of Black School Educators

Member

Association for Talent Development

Recipient

Wisconsin Association of Colleges for Teacher Education Outstanding Educator

Nominee

The New Teacher Project